WEEKLY REPUBLICAN—1897.
DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER—1899.

MAYSVILLE, KY., SATURDAY, MAY 15, 1909.

ONE COPY—ONE CENT.

MAKES HAY.

How can we tell what you can do until you start to plod?
Before a crop begins to grow you've got to turn the sod.
An idle man is far beneath the bearer of a hod.
If you're sure that you can win,
Prove you're certain and begin.
We'll be watching and we'll see you;
If we're wronged you, we will free you
From the doubts with which we've hampered you—but first show that we're wrong.
Prove by deed, not conversation;
Offer work, not explanation;
Make the effort and keep trying and you're bound to get along.
But we've met so many fakers,
And so many job-forsakers,
We've asayed so many tons of ore whose mining didn't pay,
That we're naturally suspicious.
And our viewpoint's not suspicious
Toward the man who lets the sun shine on and doesn't try for hay.
—Chicago Tribune.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY

Winners in the Red-Hot Race Which Came Off Yesterday

The Democratic Primary yesterday was animated and stirring from the hour of the opening to the close of the polls. It is worthy of note that the day passed off without the semblance of a disturbance of any kind in this city and barring a few mild drunks the decorum was good, considering it was election day.

The County Clerk's race proved to be the Derby stakes, and it was a pretty race from the drop of the flag to the passing under the wire, the two leaders running neck and neck all the way through the stretch, Dickson nosing out Wood at the wire.

The "Little Girl" got there in grand shape with a big majority. Miss Yancey's election was a popular one.

There was considerable money spent. The following are the successful candidates—
Member of the General Assembly—S. A. Shanklin.

Circuit Court Clerk—James B. Key.
County Judge—W. H. Rice.
County Court Clerk—W. P. Dickson.
County Attorney—Thomas D. Slattery.
Sheriff—William H. Mackey.
Superintendent of County Schools—Miss Jessie O. Yancey.
Jailor—John W. Eitel.
County Assessor—Henry R. Childs.
Coroner—Charles Slack.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Murphy received word yesterday that their eldest son, Mr. Gerald Murphy, would arrive home in a day or so, completely restored to health. Mr. Murphy has been at White Haven, Pa., for the past year or so for the benefit of his health, and that he has been pronounced in fine physical condition by his physicians will be very gratifying to his many friends.

Ex-Sheriff James R. Roberson, formerly of this city, now a resident of Kansas City, Mo., is dangerously ill at his home in that city. A telegram received here yesterday stated that he had met with a serious accident and that his doctors fear blood poison and say he may not recover. Mr. Roberson is a member of the police force of Kansas City, and it may be that his injury was sustained while in the discharge of his official duty.

A shooting scrape between Thomas Worthington and a colored farm hand named Cad Mason occurred Thursday night about 9 o'clock, in which the former was dangerously wounded in the shoulder. Worthington is Superintendent on the Duryea farm near Maysville, and the report goes that he was reproving the colored man for dereliction of duty, and to further emphasize his authority in the matter shot twice at the colored man with a revolver, failing to do any damage, however. Mason responded with a shotgun, lodging the contents in Worthington's shoulder. Mason escaped, and is said to be located in Ohio, beyond the reach of the Sheriff.
